of the revised draft of the Deputy Commr. is somewhat involved in the portion marked by the Office in red ink. Though it sets out the Conditions laid down in the G.O. of January last.
Correctly enough. In the said G.O. ^{within} the amount spent for the restoration of the aqueduct near the amount of the annual expenditure incurred for the upkeep of the Channel is set out. Perhaps that is left for calculation & inclusion by the Dy. Commr. & he has done so. The sum of Rs 12 4 75.14.1 represents these two items up to the end of 1913.14.
If I am also inclined to take the view that it is preferable to mention (a) the annual ^{cost} improvements for 1914-15 & 1915-16 (b) to now fix & incorporate in the draft itself the date from which interest has to be ~~cost~~ calculated & the rate of interest for item 2 in the go. I have sent a revised draft so far as that portion marked in red ink is concerned.

This embodies all my suggestions - If there is any difficulty in following my ideas, I shall take the matter over.

10 If it is not considered necessary to fix the rate of interest date from which it should accrue & the amount of the Mandar's quote for the Channel improvements for 1914-15 & 1915-16 the D^r Com^r's draft may be adopted.

11 The stamp duty & legal charges as calculated by the D^r in his draft have to be paid by the Mandar.

If my suggestions are adopted the stamp duty will depend upon the amounts to be calculated & fixed in the doc^t.

Concur in the draft bond.
The date from which interest at 4 p. c. should be charged on this amount has already been suggested in page 9 of the Collection G. R. 93-15 at nos 1-4 (ie from 1912-13) any subsequent date may be fixed if felt so desire.
16 In regard to the other item, the Dy Commr has not yet reported on the apportionment of the cost of improvements among the several Zamindars benefited by the channel.
As it is likely that the improvements would have been carried out by this time, he may be asked to ascertain the total cost from the P. W. Dept and fix the proportionate share for the Haridwar ^{& other} villages. and to submit a report in the matter at a very early date. The interest that will have to be charged on that amount so far as Haridwar is concerned & the date from which it should accrue may be fixed thereupon ~~as indicated in the~~ ~~draft bond~~. This will however take some time
